Superintendent's Report

HOME AND SCHOOL PARTNERSHIP

Emotional, Social and Intellectual Health, Safety and Welfare

During this month of October, school districts throughout the state participated and celebrated in a variety of character education programs, including but not limited to: Week of Respect, Teen Read Week, and Violence Awareness and Prevention Week. These special events serve to remind us all that we must embrace what is called the “whole child approach” to educating our students.

Great educators and parents consider the mental, physical, emotional and social needs of children. With the national attention on “high stakes” testing of student achievement levels, some think an educators purpose is to focus only on teaching content knowledge and skills. We must never turn a blind eye to the developmental nature of each and every student at each and every grade level.

In the Lyndhurst School District, we are fortunate to have a cadre of educators who understand the imperative nature of fostering good relationships within the entire network of community stakeholders. Research shows that emotional intelligence is associated with a wide range of positive outcomes among children and adolescents, including improved cognitive and social functioning, psychological well being, and higher academic performance. Lyndhurst educators and parents must continue to work together to ensure that all children reach their maximum potential in school, at home and in the community.

These students also worked together with their instructor to create a twitter handle that will be used specifically to virtually display students' work.

As a follow up, Jefferson students each participated in the Lyndhurst School District Pledge for Peace. They agreed to use kind words, to help other students, and respect all people. The same program will be rolled out in Lincoln and Roosevelt in the future.

- October 26th through the 30th is “Red Ribbon Week”. District schools will be engaged in a plethora of educational events in support of this anti-drug and alcohol campaign. The Red Ribbon Campaign was started in 1985 when DEA agent, Kiki Camarena, was killed in the line of duty by drug traffickers. This began the continuing tradition of displaying Red Ribbons as a symbol of intolerance toward the use of drugs. The mission of the Red Ribbon Campaign is to present a unified and visible commitment towards the creation of a DRUG-FREE AMERICA.

Our school administrators in partnership with the PTA have teamed up to sponsor this week-long celebration with a series of fun and educational events for our students and teachers to make them aware of the negative effects of drugs. In-class lessons with the Student Assistance Coordinator will begin following Red Ribbon Week to further educate students about effective ways to “say no to drugs” and the negative effects of drug and alcohol use.
